Saab signs corporate agreement with Prevas

Prevas and defense and security company Saab have signed a new corporate agreement. Thanks to long and successful cooperation between the companies, Prevas is one of Saab's preferred cooperation partners.

Prevas is an important supplier to Saab, and the companies have cooperated for a long time on many different projects.

"Our customers appreciate our high level of technical know-how and reliable deliveries. Our understanding of the different challenges faced by several industries is also considered an advantage. We are very happy that Saab continues to have confidence in us and has selected Prevas as one of its 'Preferred Suppliers'," says Anders Malmby, Business Region Manager at Prevas.

Prevas has been selected as a preferred supplier for services within system work, software, electronics, mechanics and testing, for example.

"Saab is one of Prevas' most important customers, and we see good potential to deepen our cooperation further," concludes Anders Malmby.
