Configure PocketPC synchronization on Windows Vista.

Windows Mobile devices support Sync Center, but to sync a Windows Mobile device with a computer running Windows Vista, you must use Windows Mobile Device Center software. You are required to download and install Microsoft Windows Mobile Device Center to get your device compatible with Sync Center and to synchronizing files with your device.

Install Windows Mobile Center 6.x.

- Download "Microsoft Windows Mobile Device Center Driver for Windows Vista (32-bit)" or "Microsoft Windows Mobile Device Center Driver for Windows Vista (64-bit)" from http://www.microsoft.com/downloads
- 2. Find the downloaded file, right click on it and choose "Run as administrator" continue the installation to the end.

Set configuration for Windows Mobile Center 6.x

1. When you insert your pocket pc for the first time in the cradle and the USB-cable is connected to your Vista client, then Microsoft Windows Mobile Device Center starts. (You also find Windows Mobile Device Center in your Control Panel).

If you use PPT8800 and not Windows Mobile Center starting then we need to install other drivers to pocket pc, see section "Symbol PPT 8800" at the end of this manual.

2. Enter "Set up your device"
